R&EC ToR

- To devise strategies to assist the University in meeting its research objectives as articulated in the University’s Strategic Plan;
- To identify and foster the means by which the University can meet emerging research opportunities, with the particular goal of increasing and maximizing research income;
- To monitor and review research performance across the University, ensuring congruence across the university, and to advise the Academic Board on the University’s research strategy, priorities and performance;
- To advise on the development of tools and processes to identify, document and enhance the impact of research conducted across the University;
- To advise on the effective publication, dissemination and communication of research, internally and externally;
- To monitor knowledge transfer and commercialization activities as a means of informing research strategies and vice versa;
- To provide guidance to the faculty initiated research ventures for quality enhancement and competitiveness both internally and externally.
- To monitor ethical standards and protocols in research projects across the university.
- To advise on new initiatives and opportunities in the enterprise and innovation area;
- To ensure that students participating in research projects are properly guided and trained.