Career Objective

I started my work as an objective-oriented and technically productive teacher of English language, literature and language teaching on personal basis which later led me to study of TESOL and CELTA. I got involved in Language skills, IELTS, Soft-skill and Business Communication trainings; leading to eventual Teacher Training. I have worked across corporate and development sectors also. I intend to pave on through CPD and empirical learning to achieve greater professional excellence. Overall, I am open to any challenging and developmental prospect, and I exert my effort to give best and beyond, in the developmental course of time.
